Art Unit: 1771

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

2. Newly submitted claims 14 and 15 are directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons: More particularly, each of these claims recites an adhesive layer that relates to a patentably separate and distinct adhesive composition which would create new issues and an addition search burden for the Examiner, and accordingly will not be examined.

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claims 14 and 15 are withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-5 and 8-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. More particularly, amended paragraph "(b)" in claim 1 is vague, indefinite and confusing since it appears both that the claim is unclear with respect to the issue of whether the styrene block copolymer must be included with the "polyolefin mixture.....amorphous poly-alpha-olefins" (the Examiner believes that it is included since the specification is believed to make clear that the presence of a styrene block copolymer is an essential element of the adhesive layer), and if so the "polyolefin mixture" is formed from element(s) in a Markush group, only one of which need be present, and the first two of which are single elements. Additionally, if all the members of the Markush group can be present in an adhesive layer from the wording of the claim there may also be new matter problems. Clarification is requested, including where the support for the claim amendment can be found.

5. Claims 1-5 and 8-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over EPA '364, substantially for the reasons set forth in Paragraph No. 6 of Paper No. 041205, together with the following additional observations. More particularly, the reference is believed to clearly disclose in certain embodiments (Examples 6-14, page 4, lines 16-25, line 35-page 5, line 36) a genus of adhesive layers suitable for use in the claimed surface protection film, the adhesive layer comprising in the relied upon embodiments a blend of at least a certain amount of an at least partially amorphous poly-alpha-olefins which can be formed from either a co- or ternary polymers of alpha olefins (which is believed to read upon the claimed "amorphous poly-alpha-olefin" component), together with a styrene block copolymer such as SIS or SEBS or, most commonly, both. With respect to applicants' arguments the fact that the components of the reference adhesive layer compositions may be more expensive (Response, page 10) is patentably irrelevant, and the remaining arguments are seen to fail in view of the relied upon teachings of the reference.

6. Claims 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over EPA '364, substantially for the reasons set forth in Paragraph No. 7 of Paper No. 041205, together with the following additional observations. Applicants have not amended these claims nor argued their merits except for their traversal of the independent claim rejections, and accordingly the Examiner must hold that the prima facie case for these claims remains unrebutted.

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Daniel Zirker whose telephone number is 571-272-1486. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Thursday from 8:30 to 6:00. The examiner can also be reached on alternate Fridays.
